

Newsletter December 2025

I am writing to you at the end of a very busy term. Our Year 11 students have recently completed their mock GCSE examinations, BTEC coursework and Functional Skills exams, and I am pleased to say they were calm, focused and determined. I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate them on their hard work, calm approach during the exams, the completion of coursework and wider study generally. I hope that they manage to have some well-earned relaxation over the Christmas break.

This busy half term has included a very successful Residential Ofsted inspection, and we look forward to sharing the report with you once it is published. In November we hosted Miss Phillip's investiture for her British Empire Medal. The medal was invested by Lady Emma Barnard, the Lord Lieutenant for West Sussex. It was an incredible whole school celebration – something we will never forget! As a school we have continued to work with a wide range of community partners, from the Department for Education where we have contributed our ideas about proposed SEND reforms, to schools across the UK to which we have provided advice and expertise about female autism and neurodiversity.

The cast and crew have been hard at work over the past few weeks organising the nativity play which will take place at St Peter's Church in Limpsfield later this week. I would like to thank Miss Hamilton and Mrs Simpson for all their hard work in writing and rehearsing the performance. We are looking forward to watching the original and unique retelling of this classic tale.

At the end of this term we say goodbye to Miss Turnbull who is leaving our Residential Provision to explore other opportunities. We would like to thank her for all her dedication, hard work and wish her all the very best for the future. At the start of the new year we will welcome Mrs Andrews, who will teach Catering to students across the school, to our team.

Thank you for your support of Limpsfield Grange throughout this term and year. I wish you all a wonderful Christmas and a happy New Year. I look forward to welcoming the girls back to school on Monday 5th January 2026.

With best wishes,

Sarah Wild
